Protein-Led Recipes for Midlife

Welcome — I'm so glad you're here.

If you're navigating perimenopause or menopause, you may have noticed that your body doesn't always respond the way it used to. Your energy might fluctuate, your sleep may have changed, or you might be finding it harder to maintain your strength and feel comfortable in your body.

I understand how frustrating that can feel, especially when you're doing all the things you thought were right.

One thing I've come to appreciate is just how important nutrition becomes during this stage of life. Not because we need to follow another diet, restrict what we eat or make everything more complicated, but because our bodies deserve to be properly nourished.

As a personal trainer and nutrition coach, I'm passionate about helping women feel strong, healthy and confident as they move through midlife and beyond. I believe that looking after ourselves should feel achievable, not overwhelming.

That's why I've put together this collection of recipes.

They're designed to make everyday eating a little easier, with a focus on nourishing ingredients, protein, fibre and the nutrients that support our muscles, bones and overall wellbeing.

But just as importantly, they're meals you'll actually want to eat. No complicated ingredients, restrictive food rules or hours spent in the kitchen.

Because eating well shouldn't mean giving up the foods you enjoy. It's about finding a balance that works for you, your lifestyle and this stage of life.

I hope these recipes give you some fresh inspiration, make mealtimes a little simpler and remind you that small, consistent choices really do make a difference.

Here's to feeling stronger, healthier and more like yourself.
